The meeting began with a prayer.

Parish Retreat

Mary Murphy reported that the Parish Day Retreat was a success. Forty parishioners attended the day of reflection and camaraderie. Our next Parish Day Retreat will be held on September 30, 2017 at the McGlenn Conference Center with Sister Patrice Klausing as the presenter.

Ministers of Hospitality

Deacon John Stapleton reported that current MOH will be giving a short talk on the weekend of Nov. 12-13, 2016 at each Mass to encourage new members. Our priests will also show support for this ministry in their closing remarks. There will be sign-up sheets available immediately following the Masses in the gathering area.

Priesthood Sunday

Karen Zuczek and Mike placed copies of the Priesthood Prayer in the pews for the weekend of October 29-30, 2016 for the congregation to recite after a short intro about Priesthood Sunday by Mike Balla, Tony Rearden, and Karen Zuczek.

Christmas Boutique

Jay Yohn explained that the Christmas Boutique would be held for two days. Forty vendors will feature their crafts on the evening of Nov. 18 as well as Nov. 19 until 4:00 p.m. He told us take-out dinners will be available on Friday evening and breakfast and lunch will be served on Saturday. Donations from local businesses for the Boutique have been wonderful. The committee is seeking baked goods from parishioners for the bake sale.

Other Business

Heather Keperling is going to contact Joe Miller (CYO) to see if any students need volunteer hours. The Boutique committee would welcome help with clean-up on Nov. 19th.
